Description

This villa is all about a calm, unhurried way of living, where everything around you helps you switch off and truly relax. It's surrounded by lush tropical greenery, with palm trees all around, and the windows open up to views of the golf course. It's easy to feel a sense of privacy here — and slip into that rhythm where there's no need to rush.

The living room is the heart of the home. It's where people naturally gather, spend evenings together, and catch up with friends. Large sliding doors open onto a covered terrace and a private pool. You can easily imagine slow breakfasts outdoors, kids playing nearby, and evenings filled with the soft light of the sunset.

The villa has three bedrooms, each with its own feel. One opens directly onto the garden and pool, another works well for guests or children, and upstairs there's an additional bedroom with its own terrace and a lovely view — a more private, tucked-away space.

Overall, the house is thoughtfully designed without unnecessary complexity: a practical kitchen, comfortable indoor and outdoor living areas. Everything here is made for real life — not just for show.

It's a great option for those looking for more than just a property, but a place to spend time with family, relax, and feel genuinely at ease.
